RIDING THE ROLLERCOASTER:
THE JOYS AND HAZARDS OF SETTING UP
A CURRENT AWARENESS SERVICE

John Burne
Library
World Maritime University
500 Malmo, Sweden

ABSTRACT

This paper looks at the problem and success of providing a current awareness service for industry using the service set up by the Marine Laboratory, Aberdeen to the salmon fishing industry as an example. It looks at some of the problems of funding, copyright and how services like this could be developed using document image processing. The establishment of a maritime information service is briefly discussed.

For further information contact author.